

Dear Signatories and Friends,

Thank you for adding your name to our Principles of Protection. We greatly appreciate your support of this important initiative to call attention to and codify the human rights of all migrants, refugees, and displaced persons around the world in this time of COVID-19. Our final total: 797 Signatories. Incredible!

You can find the 14 Principles here and accompanying press release here.

This has been a coordinated effort between Columbia University's Mailman School of Public Health, Cornell Law School's Migration and Human Rights Program, and The New School's Zolberg Institute on Migration and Mobility.

We ask that you share the principles widely with governments, international organizations and academic colleagues — and on social media. Below you'll find some social media templates you can use to share with your networks, along with a folder of image assets. We're also posting from the social channels listed, if you'd like to retweet, quote-tweet, comment, or share.

Those who have not yet endorsed the document may do so here. Signatures collected after April 27, 2020 will be included in a full list on the Zolberg Institute website.

Warmest,

Monette, Ian, and Alex

I'm honored to be a Signatory, along with 796 other scholars and leaders, to these #14Principles for protecting the human rights of migrants, refugees, and other displaced persons affected by #COVID19: <https://bit.ly/3cVi5ZT>

2.

As #COVID19 wreaks havoc on economies and communities around the world, those being hit hardest are those already suffering the most: refugees and other displaced persons. I'm proud to be a Signatory to these #14Principles of Protection: <https://bit.ly/3cVi5ZT>

3.

From health to non-discrimination to privacy, I believe governments must follow these #14Principles of protection for migrants, refugees, and other displaced persons during the #COVID19 pandemic, developed by @columbiamsph @cornelllaw @zolberginst: <https://bit.ly/3cVi5ZT>
